Planning for Extra Care

The numbers

1. Over 65s will grow from 11m to nearly 17m by 2033. 80% of older people are home owners
2. 60% of all household growth will be by those aged over 65
3. Reduced Government grants, but £1.15 trillion held in housing equity by the over 65s
4. 35,000 Extra Care units exist in the UK. 500,000 exist of all types of specialist accommodation for the elderly
5. Just 2% of our housing stock is specialist accommodation (the USA has around 9%)
6. The UK is building fewer specialist homes now than in the 1980s

Planning and Extra Care

Why has it been so difficult to deliver specialist accommodation in the private sector?

1. Financial impact of design and care provision
2. Need for ongoing services
3. Difficulties in finding, and competing for, suitable sites
4. Need for high-density buildings and limited parking
5. Brownfield sites, often windfall and unplanned
6. Financial outlay in completing schemes and employing care teams before any purchases
7. Impact of affordable housing contributions (confusion between C2 & C3)
8. Little recognition of the differences to traditional housing
Planning for Extra Care

A suggested approach (1)

1. What does national policy say?

- The National Planning Policy Framework:
  “Local planning authorities should: plan for a mix of housing based on current and future demographic trends, market trends and the needs of different groups in the community (such as families with children, the elderly and people with disabilities); and identify the size, type, tenure and range of housing that is required in particular locations, reflecting local demand.” (Para 111)

- The new Housing Strategy:
  “We will encourage local authorities to make provision for a wide range of housing types across all tenures, including accessible and adaptable general-needs retirement housing, and specialised housing options including sheltered and Extra Care housing for older people with support and care needs.” Page 47

- The forthcoming Adult Social Care White Paper….?
Planning for Extra Care

A suggested approach (2)

1. Need for cross-departmental working (at Chief Executive level?)

2. Important points to consider:
   - Growing unmet need in the provision of domiciliary care
   - Health and community benefits of specialist housing
   - Reducing pressure on Adult Social Care budgets
   - The need for older people to release housing equity
   - The growing levels of under-occupancy
   - Use of the New Homes Bonus
Planning for Extra Care

A suggested approach (3)

1. Ensure policy is joined up:
   - Housing assessments /strategies / plans
   - Localism and neighbourhood plans
   - Allocate specific sites and unit numbers
   - Consideration of all tenures
   - Community Infrastructure Levy
   - Key population statistics broken into ward data
   - Consideration of all types of housing for older people
   - Consider policies that assist older people downsize and free up existing housing stock
Housing Toolkit

Helping local authorities plan for specialist housing for older people

1. Technical steering group established, led by DCLG
2. To complement the publication of the NPPF in spring 2012
3. Objective is to increase specialist delivery
4. Aims to promote cross-departmental working
5. Provide tools and policy suggestions
6. Will be issued to every local authority
