

Motionspot^o

Designing inclusively: why inclusive and accessible design should be the first fix

26th July 2022

Function over form

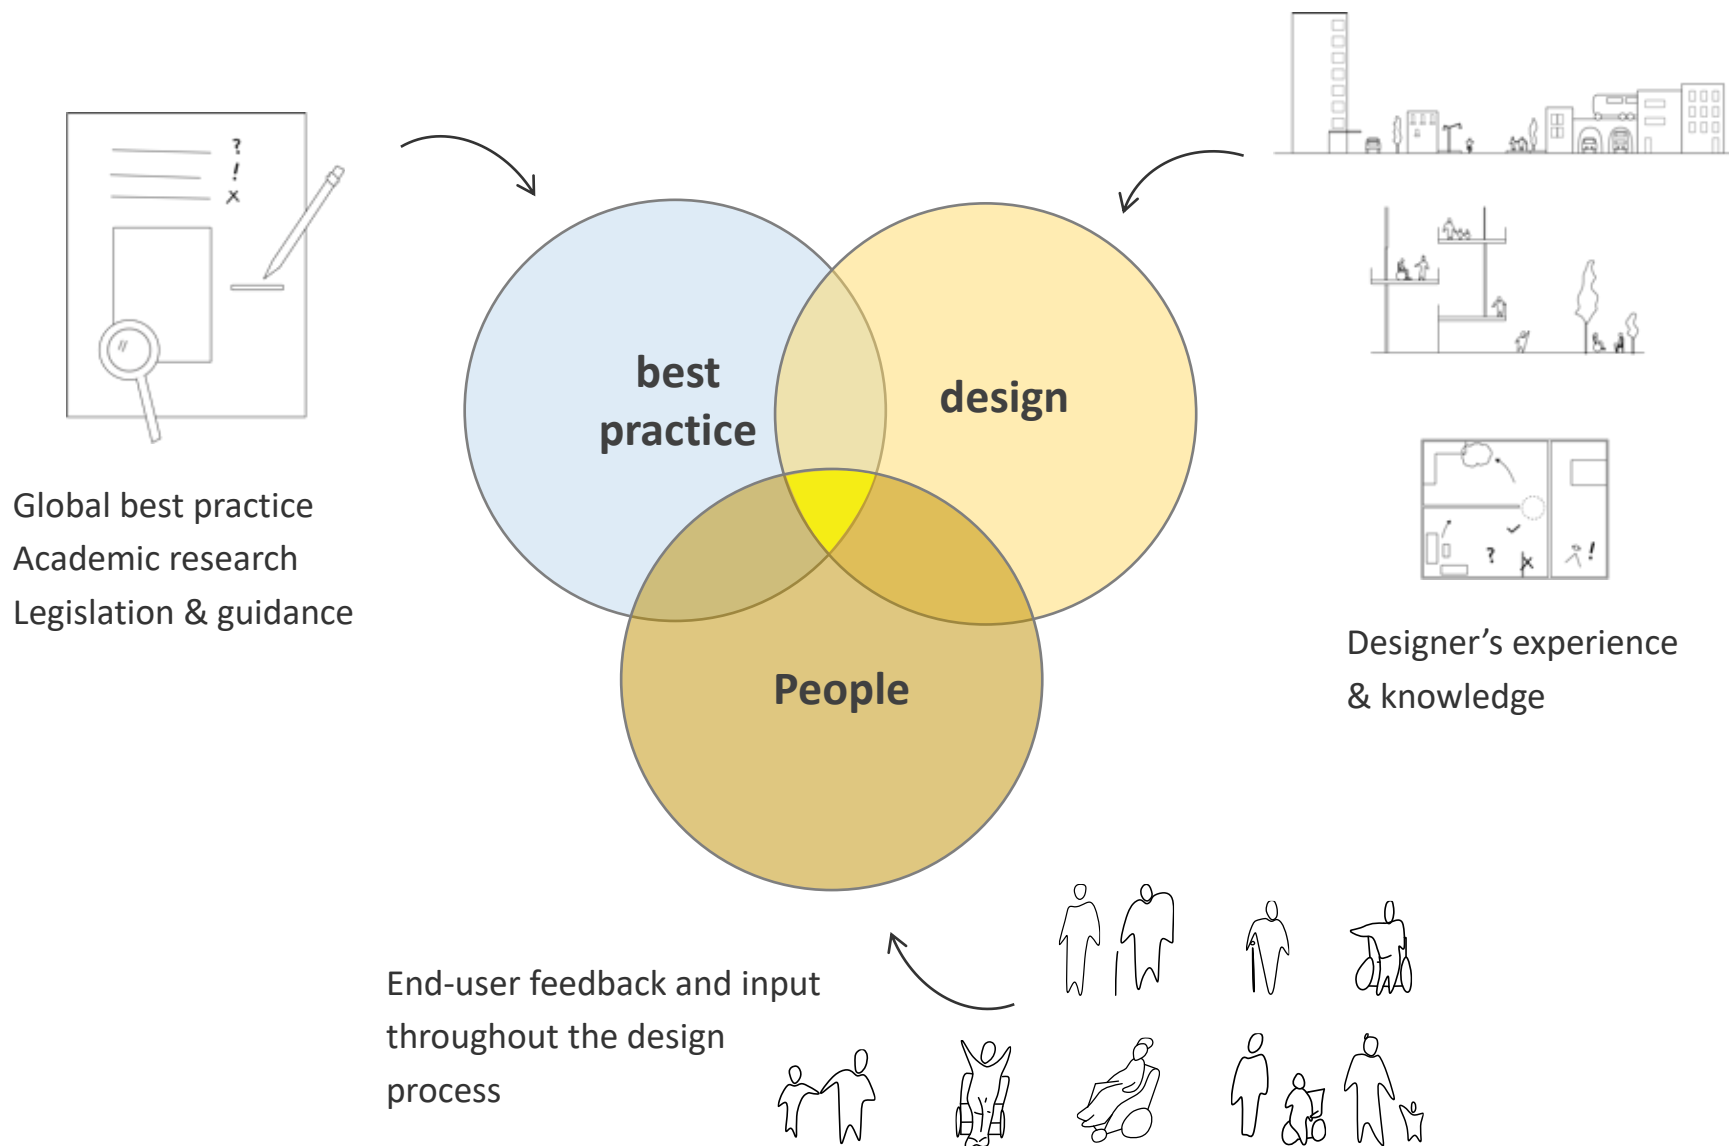

The Motionspot team

We are access specialists designers
occupational therapists
product designers
engineers
inventors
We are Motionspot

Evidence based design

What we do

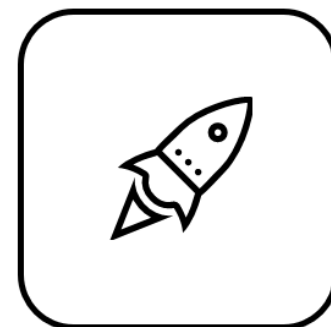

DESIGN

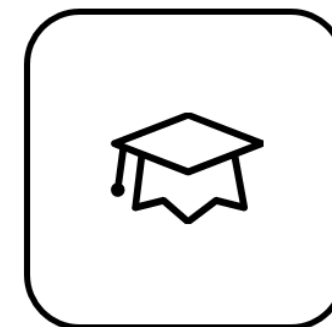

CONSULT

SUPPLY

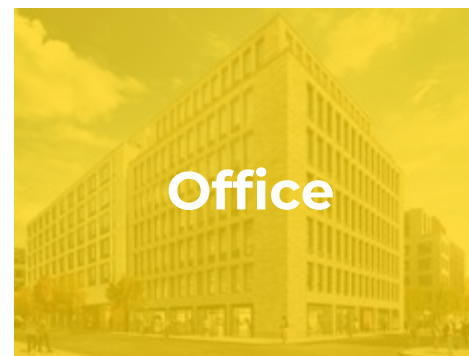

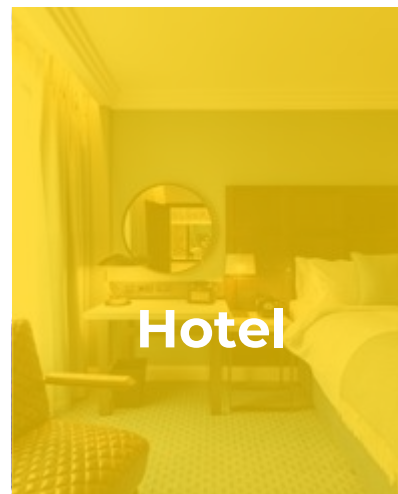

DEVELOP

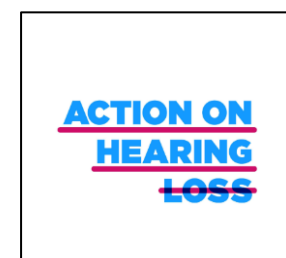

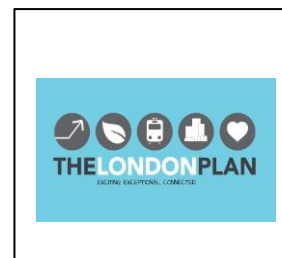

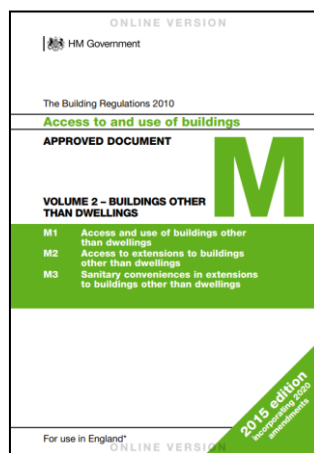

EDUCATE

Where we work

Access regulations and best practice guidance

Designing inclusively for everyone

Neurodiversity & mental health

Physical access

Cultural awareness

Gender equality

Sensory access

	Permanent	Temporary	Situational
Touch	 One arm	 Arm injury	 New parent
See	 Blind	 Cataract	 Distracted driver
Hear	 Deaf	 Ear infection	 Bartender
Speak	 Non-verbal	 Laryngitis	 Heavy accent

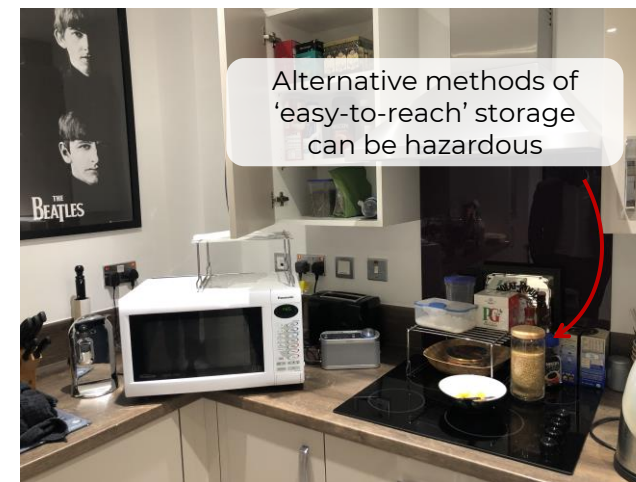

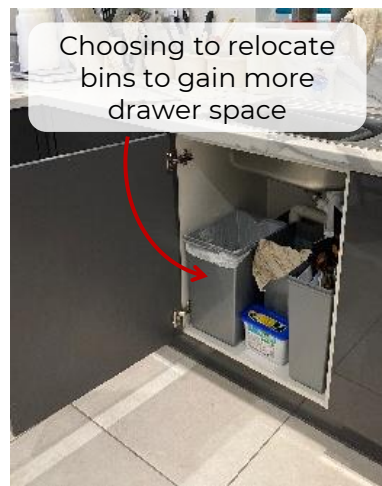

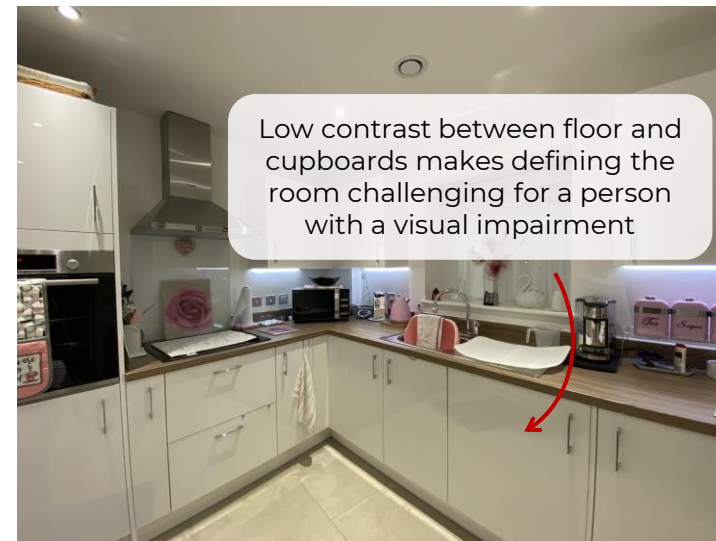

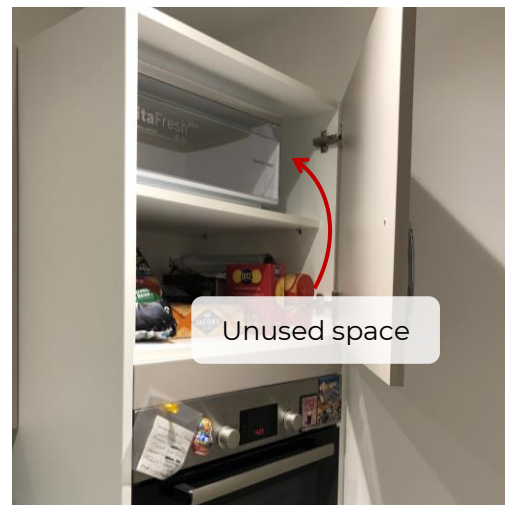

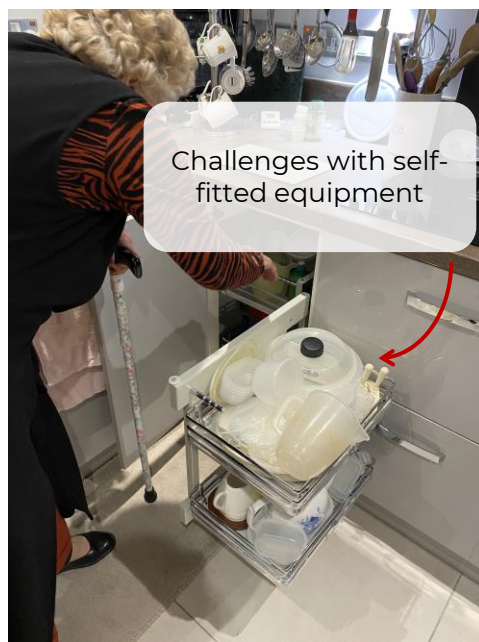

Microsoft 2016

Unsuitable UK housing stock

Kitchen challenges

Living area challenges

13

A different approach Inclusive & aspirational homes

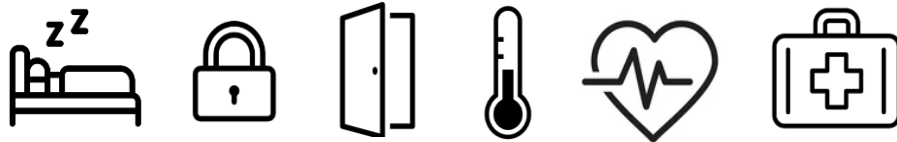

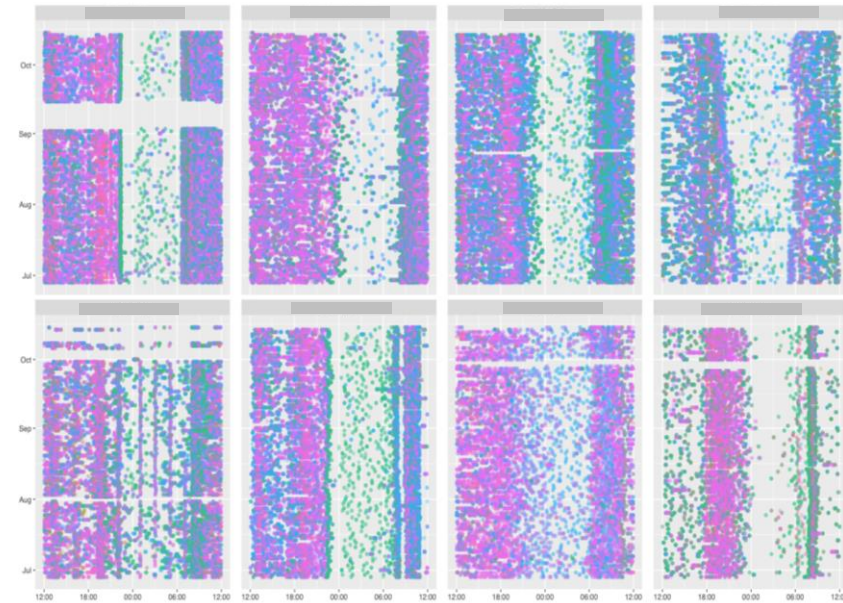

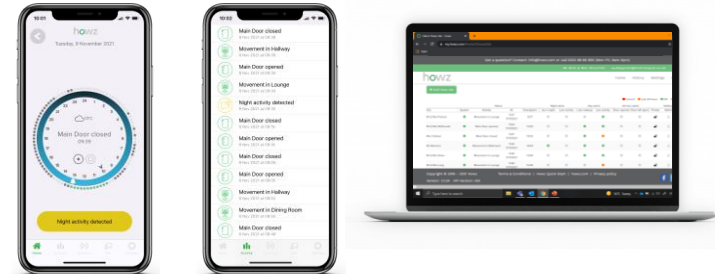

Wheelchair accessible communal WC's

Future proofed kitchens

Outcomes & business case

Resident Benefits

- ✓ Enhanced access and safety
- ✓ Improved aesthetics impacting well being for users and carers
- ✓ Greater independence at home
- ✓ Intuitive and easy to use fixtures and fittings
- ✓ Easier maintenance and cleaning
- ✓ Choice & personalisation

Local Authority Benefits

- ✓ Resident safety and independence
- ✓ An option for private payers
- ✓ Reduce waiting lists and focus resources on residents with more complex care needs
- ✓ Reduced hospital visits
- ✓ Health & social care budget savings

Thank you

Thank you for engaging with our presentation. For more information, or to discuss your project please contact:

Ed Warner

ed@motionspot.co.uk

Motionspot^o

+44 (0)203 735 5139
team@motionspot.co.uk
www.motionspot.co.uk

1 Ilex House
94 Holly Road
Twickenham
TW1 4HF
United Kingdom