Domini Gunn, Director Health & Wellbeing, Chartered Institute of Housing (CIH)

e: domini.gunn@cih.org w: www.cih.org

The Chartered Institute of Housing (CIH) is the professional body for everyone involved in housing and communities. Our goal is simple – to provide housing professionals with the advice, support and knowledge they need to be brilliant. Our work is driven by a passionate belief that our contribution as housing professionals is vital to making communities great places to live and work – and that everyone is entitled to a decent, affordable home in a thriving, safe and healthy community.

Sue Adams, Chief Executive, Care & Repair England

e: info@careandrepair-england.org.uk
w: www.careandrepair-england.org.uk/homefromhospital/index.htm

Care & Repair England is an independent charitable organisation established in 1986 which aims to improve older people's housing. Our vision is that all older people have decent living conditions in a home of their own choosing. We aim to innovate, develop, promote and support practical housing initiatives and the related policy and practice which enable older people to live independently in their own homes for as long as they wish, particularly for older people living in poor or unsuitable private sector housing.

Kate Sheehan, The College of Occupational Therapists

The Housing Learning and Improvement Network (LIN) is the leading independent 'learning lab' for connecting housing, health and social care professionals to support closer integration and innovation in the way plan, design and deliver housing, care and support services for older people and those with long term conditions. For further information about the Housing LIN's comprehensive range of free online resources, shared learning and service improvement opportunities, including site visits and network meetings in your region.

Dr Ian Donald, chair of Policy Committee and BGS lead for social care and housing

w: www.bgs.org.uk

The British Geriatrics Society (BGS) is a professional association of doctors practising geriatric medicine, old age psychiatrists, general practitioners, nurses, therapists, scientists and others with a particular interest in the medical care of older people and in promoting better health in old age. It has over 2,500 members worldwide and is the only society in the UK offering specialist medical expertise in the wide range of health care needs of older people.

Andrew Strong, British Red Cross

w: www.redcross.org.uk

The British Red Cross are a volunteer-led humanitarian organisation that helps people in crisis, whoever and wherever they are. We enable vulnerable people at home and overseas to prepare for and respond to emergencies in their own communities. And when the crisis is over, we help people recover and move on with their lives.

Amanda Cheesley, Long Term Conditions Adviser, The Royal College of Nursing

w: www.rcn.org.uk

The Royal College of Nursing (RCN) is the voice of nursing across the UK and is the largest professional union of nursing staff in the world. The RCN promotes the interest of nurses and patients on a wide range of issues and helps shape healthcare policy by working closely with the UK Government and other national and international institutions, trade unions, professional bodies and voluntary organisations.

Philip Hurst, National Development Manager – Health, Age UK

w: www.ageuk.org.uk

Age UK has a vision of a world in which older people flourish. We aim to improve later life for everyone through our information and advice, campaigns, products, training and research. Many local Age UKs provide home from hospital services to ensure that older people can have a safe supported discharge, avoid readmission, and access a wide range of community-based support.

Tim Hind - LGA

w: www.local.gov.uk

The LGA is the national voice of local government. We work with councils to support, promote and improve local government. We are a politically-led, cross-party organisation that works on behalf of councils to ensure local government has a strong, credible voice with national government. We aim to influence and set the political agenda on the issues that matter to councils so they are able to deliver local solutions to national problems.
