

Resources/contacts for Older People's Action Groups on housing and ageing for the next General Election

It is not long before the next general election. Politicians, policy makers and others are developing their manifestos for the next election and beyond. The Older People's Housing Champion's network (<http://housingactionblog.wordpress.com/>) has been developing its own manifesto on housing and will be looking at how to influence the agenda locally and nationally in the months ahead. Its manifesto is at <http://housingactionblog.wordpress.com/2014/08/07/our-manifesto-for-housing-safe-warm-decent-homes-for-older-people/>

To help Older People's Action Groups, Care & Repair England has produced this contact list of key people to influence in the run up to the next election. We have also included some ideas of the sort of questions you might like to ask politicians and policy makers when it comes to housing. While each party is still writing their manifesto in anticipation of the Party Conference season in the autumn, there are opportunities to contribute on-line at the party websites included.

Housing Issues you might want to raise

Some local Older People's Action Groups are pulling together questions for their local politicians in the run up to the election. This offers an opportunity to put housing and ageing on the agenda. Here are some ideas in relation to housing and ageing that you might find helpful.

- Would you support the continuation of grants for disabled/older people to adapt their homes so that they can live independently?
- Would you support designing all new homes to be accessible, future proofing all homes so that they meet the needs of an ageing population?
- Would you support low cost, practical essential repairs services for low income home owners who need just that little bit of help to stay living safely and well at home?
- Would you support the further expansion of independent, impartial information and advice services for older people on housing, care and related finance?
- What measures do you think should be taken to better integrate housing with health and care to support older people to live independently at home, preventing hospital admissions and reducing demands on health and care interventions?
- How would you ensure that older people play a more active role in local and national planning and decision making in relation to housing?
- How would you ensure that the needs of older people are not ignored in national housing policy?
